Hongrong, July 30th, 1880

THE case of Li Aping, who on Wednesday, at the Criminal Sessions of the Supreme Court, was sentenced by the Chief Justice to two years' imprisonment with hard labour, is important as affording a striking illustration. of the corrupting tendencies of gambling: houses. We have on several occasions given publicity to reports made, on good native authority, of the bribery that goes on among the Chinese section of the Police Force in this Colony, most of whomere credited with receiv. barque Figure, Captain Schulken, arrived in eight valueless as legal security, were in fact no you might think there was something in this ing regular sums from the owners of the gam- days and a half, from Hongkong. bling-houses. The attempt to bribe Inspector EXNESSY with the sum of $500 to induce him to connivo at the existence of certain gamblinghouses will be accepted as corroboration of the statements made as to the corruption of the Chinese force. It is fortunate for the Colony that it possesses officers in the Police who are able to resist a bait so tempting. But, knowing the infirmity of human nature, can we dare to hope that all the members of the Police Force areas insensible to the fascination Melbourne on the 26th instant; and the steamer the best informed gentlemen in the Colony on of a goodly pile of Mexicans? Itis hardly to be expected that all of them would be proof against the allurements dangled before their eyesby the gambling-house keepers, and in any case we caunot wonder at the Chinese yielding readily to the temptation. In China, as Mr. corrected for temp. and see level, 753.25 milli- that it was really the Court which sued against HAYLLAR pointed out, the bribing of a superior officer is a thing attempted every day, and every man has his price. What wonder, then, that the gambling-house should seek to try the same influence here! What wonder that gambling of-war now being proceeded with in Yezosuka should be so rife when there is so unreasonably large a proportion of the Police Russia and China, in the event of which it is Force Chinese? It is the most insensate folly to suppose that gambling can ever be the value of 500,000 you to send to Vladivostook. kept within moderate limits—to suppress it entirely is, we think, absolutely impossibleso long as Chinese are employed in such Chief Justice, whose wonderful power of fasting -Fined half-a-dollar, in default one day's im- be used by the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha for the that some particular person has actually broken from his pillow and said with a smile: "Doar as represented by qur vice-consul, Mr. Russell large numbers in the Police. SALSON, CAMBODIA, can enjoy the advantages of a mild and benignant rule in this island, they are not at liberty to import all the peculiar institutions of the Flowery Land here, that British law is immutable, and that justice cannot be purchased by the highest bidder: Until these facts are fully recognised, it cannot be said that the law of Great Britain has been successfully administered here. Under the present regime, unhappily for all parties, the impression has been allowed to get about that the island is ruled in some measure according to Chinese ideas, and this feeling has been strengthened by the mode adopted by the Head of the Executive to ascertain the opinions of the "leading Chinese" on every possible subject. That such an impression is calculated to have an injurious effect both upon British influence in China and the prestige of the local Government here it is needless to point out.

For some time past it must have been apparent, even to the most casual observer; that the wise and salutary regulation which provides that Chinese going abroad after nine o'clock p.m. shall carry a light and pass has been suffered to become pretty nearly a dend letter. Any one walking through the during that time the defendants could offer such streets at night during the past twelve months after the hour above mentioned could not fail to remark the number of natives about with- which seemed to him to be the just one in the out lights, and probably without passes. BANDS V. FORDES-APPEAL. The Attorney-General (Hon. E. L. O'Malley) instructed by Mr. Dennys, appeared for the apellant (the plaintiff); and Mr. Hayllar, Q.C. instructed by Messrs, Brereton and Wotton, for the Hongkong and Whampon Dock Company. The cause of Sands v. Forbes is an administration suit, and the, present appeal was against an order made by the Chief Justice on the application of the Dock Co., who had come in and submitted. The facts are briefly as follows:— An agreement had been entered into by the representatives of the late G.U. Sands and the Dock Co. for the purchase by the latter of the testator's property known as Sands' Slip and McDonald's Slip, for the sum of $150,000, half the amount to be paid in each and the other half to remain on mortgage to be paid off at stated intervals The Dock Co., however, subsequently wished to pay off the whole sum at ence, contending they were antitled to do so. A suit was thereupon, by direction of the Court sitting in Probate, brough by the executrix of the late Mr. Sands (the plaintiff in the present suit) praying for specific performance of the contract. That sait was Upon this the Dock Company came in and sub summons in chambers calling upon the plaintiffs in the suit of Sands v. the Dock Company to show cause why the Company should not deliver in China Sugar debentures $75,000 in payment of the balance of the purchase money instead of the mortgage. The Chief he decided that it was for the benefit of the paid and the Dock Company consenting to pay the costs in the other suit. A decree was thereupon drawn up by the Registrar which

WRECK OF A JAPANESE STEAMER

The Hiogo News of the 12th July says a dreadil accident has happened to one of the Japanese steamers which ply between Kobe and the Inland. Sea ports, probably causing great loss of life. What we know of it has been learned from the captain and chief officer of the Gentini-maru, which arrived here vesterday. About 8 o'clock in the morning (Sunday), while fifteen miles east, three-quarters north, from Steep Bluff (or about 42 miles from Kobe), they sighted Japanese steemer head down and stern up. On going as close to the wrack as possible Captain Conner found that there were no persons on it or near it; the storn rail and after deck-house were visible above water, but she was awash amidships: the main trysail was set: At a distanco of some miles from the wreck a crowd of boats was soon, with some wrockage, but they were close up to the beach, in very shallow water, and could not be approached. It was evident that the steamer must either have been blown up or run into. The name of the steamer is said to be the Hakusui-maru, one of the small Japanese steamers plying down the Inland Sea. She was entirely manned by Japanese, and there is great probability that the disaster was caused by an explosion of her boilers; for the little steamers are raced with most culpable folly, and Japanese engineers are not to be depended upon.

Later particulars say the steamer was former! known as the Kobe-mura, and now named the Hakusui-maru. She belonged to Mr. Sumitome. and was an old boat, having run between Kobe and Osaka in the days before the railway was opened. At 2 p.m. on the 10th instant the Hakusui-maru left Kawaguchi, Osaka, for Shimonoseki, vià Kobe, leaving the latter place at 6 was noticed to be coming up with the Hakusuimaru, on which all steam was crowded in order that she should not be passed by her rival. The bursting of her boiler was the result, when she immediately sank. Seventeen of the passengers were injured, and five of the crew, including the captain and purser, are missing. The wounded were brought back to Kobe by the Urayasumaru, and taken to the hospital. The cargo of the vessel was rocovered, placed in bests, and taken to Tomo. Bingo. TEA ELAVOURINGS.

It would be interesting to know what the properers or vendors of cheap teas are using to flavour the varieties they offer in caper competi. -tion to please the palates of their customers and win public support. If it be only a little finelythat class, no harm is likely to come of the The Hochi Shimbun says :- " The price of artifice; but there are always dangers lurking in since the reduction of prices and the increased Rules for Japanese students in foreign coun- consumption consequent on the revulsion of "feel tries have been established in the War Depart- ing" against alcoholic beverages has set in, one.

RELIC OF THE VIKINGS.

An interesting discovery has just been made 'at Sandeberred, in Norway, of a Scandinavian thought to have belenged to the Vikings, or Norwegian pirates. It measures about 75 feet in length, and is in an almost perfect state of preservation. It is armed and equipped as though it had been abandoned where found when on the point of sailing on some adventurous expedition. All the apparatus used by nautical-Norsemen are met with in this ancient craft, the mast of which is still pretty well intact. There are fragments of sails and cordage remnining; as well as many specimens either perfect or incomplete of utensils and instruments; which have been eagerly examined by antiquaries. Amonet other things are a number of pieces of onkwood, popularly shaped, wrought with a cortain elegance, and hollowed out in the contro to admitof ropes being passed through them. Spudes sible to prevent the desecration of the remains but it has now been determined to adopt a route and shields, or bucklers, have also been found, or rather the from portion of the buckless, for the wooden part is entirely gone. Near the rudder the form of the shields and the manner in which they are suspended round the interior of the The ship is absolutely the same as one sees respre sented on the beautiful tapestry of Bayenz, in century, and which chains to be the most ancient speciment of the sort extent. APPALLING SCENES IN TURKEY. In a private letter Mr. Tristam Eilis gives an appalling account of the scenes of famine which The Rochi Shimbun says :- " A gold mine was he has just witnessed in the course of a journey from Disrbekir to Baydad. People were continually dying in were pointed at both ends, but the thread was the streets, and mothers selling their children very brilliant, and looked superior to the native for slaves, or even worse purposes. It was article. The thread was manufactured at the very common to see men and children, a mere heap of bones, lying naked in the street.

covered with the flies they were too weak to brush away. And, worst of all, little dying children were hired by professional beggars for the purpose of exciting charity, and were oxhibited naked in the bazears. I found one poor little baby about four years old quite dead, and the woman who was begging for something to give it was not aware that it was so! Bread upon which the people generally live, and which is worth generally about id per pound, was then selling for more than a shilling. The people would have died wholesale had it not been for the root of a sort of thiste that the spring weather had caused to come up, and that is very edible, and of course can be got for the trouble of collection. The ground for miles round the town was all dug up by the people for this root, and while they due one saw them eating the grass and weeds round shout as well. I don't think I ever saw so many thin people at once in my life before. A contrast to them were the rich mufti and kadi of the town, who were as fat and round about as usual, and did nothing to relieve the distress around. In fact most of them had large stores of grain themselves that they were keeping back till the price should become still higher. The Government had ordered the stores of private individuals to be opened, and the grain sold by auction; but, as the principal stores were all held by Government officials, only some small stores belonging to the people who had put by enough to get themselves and family through the famine were opened, these people therefore reduced to beggary, and the famine scarcely relieved. The show of crops was very good, but no min had fallen for some time in that district (rather a contrast to what I had just been passing through), and great fears were entertained of another failure of crops this year, so prices were still going up and up. One day even bread was quoted at a price equal to 2s. a pound, but two days with rain just at the right time caused the price to fall to 6d. in one day, showing that the store-holders had got frightened, and put a lot into the market at once. I of course visited Nimroud, where excavations are still being carried on. There was very little to see, as the earth of the new excavation is thrown into the old openings, all the good sculptures having been removed to the British Museum. They are looking for tablets with writing on them, to, if possible, try and complete some important fragments, they have already in the British Museum. The excavators get two plastres—equal to 4d.—per day, and awfully thin they are. I went and lived on the mound for some days in order to make studies and sketches there. After one had been drawn July twelve pirates were beheaded at Ningpo, was a pure accident, and it is not even suspected hunded in the following:—"The cat is a small and got 6d, for the half hour or so that he sat, and that on the same day four more were cap. that any attempt at defrauding the revenue was cattle. compelled to coin to express the numerous obicots in machinery photography telegraphy and in science generally, which the rapid advance | Current Local Rates of Premia will be allowed of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given. the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the ROM this date, until further notice, a dis-Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously upon Insurances effected with this Company. attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work, the following facts are submitted for consideration :---Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst $50,000 on First-class Risks. this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto published.

For practical purposes the arrangement of he work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-

It comprises upwards of two thousand large marto pages.
